

medical jurisprudence, Rush Medical College. Second edition. Two octavo volumes, totaling 2268 pages, with 334 illustrations, including ten insets in colors. Philadelphia and London: W. B. Saunders Company. 1923. Cloth, $20 net.

Rules for Recovery from Pulmonary Tuberculosis. A layman's handbook of treatment. By Lawrason Brown, M.D. Fourth edition, thoroughly revised. Lea & Febiger, Philadelphia and New York. 1923.

Diseases of the Rectum, Anus, and Colon. By Samuel Goodwin Gant, M.D., New York City, professor and chief of the department for diseases of the colon, rectum, and anus at the Broad Street Hospital Graduate School of Medicine. In three volumes, including the ileocolic angle, appendix, colon, sigmoid flexure, rectum, anus, buttocks, and sacrococcygeal region, and containing 1128 illustrations and ten insets in colors. Philadelphia and London: W. B. Saunders Company.

Clinical Medicine, Tuesday Clinics at the Johns Hopkins Hospital. By Lewellys F. Barker, M.D., professor of medicine, emeritus, Johns Hopkins University; visiting physician to Johns Hopkins Hospital. Octavo of 617 pages, illustrated. Philadelphia and London: W. B. Saunders Company. 1922. Cloth, $7 net.

Regional Anesthesia: Its Technic and Clinical Application. By Gaston Labat, M.D., lecturer on Regional Anesthesia at the New York University; laureate of the faculty of sciences, University of Montpellier; laureate of the faculty of medicine, University of Paris; formerly special lecturer on Regional Anesthesia; The Mayo Foundation, University of Minnesota. With a foreword by William J. Mayo, M.D. Octavo of 496 pages with 315 original illustrations. Philadelphia and London: W. B. Saunders Company. 1922. Cloth, $7 net.

Bronchoscopy and Esophagoscopy. By Chevalier Jackson, M.D., professor of laryngology, Jefferson Medical College, professor of bronchoscopy and esophagoscopy, graduate School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania. Octavo of 346 pages with 114 illustrations and four color plates. Philadelphia and London: W. B. Saunders Company. 1922. Cloth, $5.50 net.

MEDICAL ECONOMICS

Why not let our advertisers help you?

The Advertising Friends of the Journal Are Spreading Over Larger Territory—With the last few issues of the Journal there has been a considerable increase in the advertisers from Los Angeles and the southern part of the State, and even from Nevada. We are glad to be able to offer this home service to our members and other readers.

Surgical and Hospital Gowns and Uniforms—The Nurses' and Students' Outfitting Company, 1031 West Seventh street, Los Angeles, announce service to physicians and hospitals in the manufacture of all sorts of professional garments. This is a constantly growing industry, and we are pleased to add this company from Southern California to the name of the Doctors' and Nurses' Outfitting Company, 970 Sutter street, San Francisco, whom we have carried for some time. This latter company also has stores in Oakland and Fresno.

Rehabilitation Fellowships—The Stanford Medical School announces in this number an offer of a certain number of Fellowships in Rehabilitation work. Physicians who include industrial medicine and surgery in their practice, and those who desire to become familiar with the technique of this work, are invited to read the announcement.

Rickenbacker Motor Company has an advertisement in this number of the Rickenbacker Automobile. This is the first automobile to be advertised in our Journal, although automobile advertising is featured occasionally in other medical journals. Mr. Charles W. Kohl, manager of the San Francisco office of the Motor Company, has had much contact with physicians and is pleased to announce that he has sold a considerable number of Rickenbacker cars to members of the profession in this State.

Foolproof Electric Pad—The Reno Optical Company, Reno, Nevada, is advertising a substitute for the hot water bottle. This article has been in use for some time and carries the endorsement of a number of hospitals and physicians.

Cipher Wafers—These wafers are an attractive bread substitute in cases of diabetes, constipation, and obesity, and can be obtained from the Chase Diet Sanitarium, 1032 West Eighteenth street, Los Angeles, whose announcement is also carried in this number of the Journal. These wafers have the endorsement of a number of our prominent physicians in Los Angeles.

Western Society for the Study of Hay Fever, Asthma, and Allergic Diseases—The first annual meeting of this society will be held at the Hotel St. Francis, San Francisco, June 25. A special program will be presented. The officers are Grant Selfridge, president; William V. Mullin, first vice-president; E. W. Phillips, second vice-president; Albert H. Rowe, secretary-treasurer; executive committee, George Piness and Harvey M. Hall.

DEATHS

Bower, Albert S. Died at Hanford, March 31, 1923, age 66. Graduate of Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia, 1882, and as a young man went to Salt Lake City, where he was in active practice for forty years. Dr. Bower was a member of the medical societies of Utah and the American Medical Association.

Kearney, Elizabeth Francis. Died at Los Angeles, April 17, 1923. Graduate of the Keokuk Medical College, 1892, and licensed in California in 1900. She was formerly a member of the Los Angeles County Medical Society, the State Medical Society, and the American Medical Association.

Murphy, Lea Marion. Died at Los Angeles, April 18, 1923, age 37. Graduate of the Northwestern University Medical School, Chicago, Ill., 1911. Dr. Murphy was staff physician of the Santa Fe Railway, and had been in practice in Los Angeles for the past seven years. He was a member of the Los Angeles County Medical Society, the State Medical Society, and the American Medical Association.

Louis Milton Coy died of Vincent's angina at the General Hospital in San Bernardino, April 17. Service was held April 19 at the Congregational Church at San Bernardino and was largely attended, many members of the San Bernardino County Medical Society being present. Dr. Coy was a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of the University of Southern California in 1915, and upon receiving his degree was appointed assistant superintendent of the General Hospital of San Bernardino and in 1917 was made superintendent, serving in that capacity until two years ago, when he resigned to enter private practice. He was a member of the San Bernardino County Medical Society, the State Medical Society, and the American Medical Association.